15-year old sought for assaulting principal

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

The West Sacramento Police Department announced Thursday that an arrest warrant has been issued for a 15-year old believed to be responsible for injuring high school principal Stuart MacKay on October 28. MacKay was trying to break up one of several fights on the River City High School campus that day when he was hit on the back of the head and knocked to the ground by a student. MacKay suffered a concussion and has not yet returned to work.

Police did not release the name of the juvenile suspect. He has been expelled from the school, said Lieutenant Tod Sockman. Police have not yet located him and believe he has moved.

Last week, the News-Ledger reported that district officials expelled a number of students on Nov. 30. At the time of that report, a district official was unwilling to say how many of those expulsions were related to the massive food fight and several physical altercations that all took place on Oct. 28 at RCHS. But that official and Superintendent Steve Lawrence have since provided the requested information.

Four RCHS students were expelled for participating in that day's events, said Gretchen Mounier, Director of Pupil Services for the district.

In addition, 21 students were suspended from school temporarily for being involved in the food fight or other incidents, according to an email authored by Don Beno, Assistant Superintendent for Human Resources.

Beno added that "this year

Kicking off the holiday season—

The West Sacramento Chamber of Commerce sponsored a holiday party Friday evening at the 'La Bou' parking lot, near Jefferson & West Capitol.

Providing some of the entertainment were the Russian Evangelical Baptist Church (above) and a gospel choir from the Center for Spiritual Awareness.

Santa showed up and was honored with a key to the city. At right, city councilman Oscar Villegas hands Santa an oversized key, with councilman Mark Johannessen looking on at the far right.

Empty space in chocolate boxes leads to legal action

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

The district attorneys' offices of Yolo and Sacramento will split a settlement of about $117,000 after they took legal action against a candy company for essentially having too much empty space in its boxes of chocolate cordials. The settlement also includes a $4,000 reimbursement to Sacramento County, which originally investigated the candy boxes.

Jonathan Raven, Assistant Chief Deputy D.A. for Yolo, announced the settlement with Signature Brands, LLC, in September. He declined to tell the News-Ledger the name and specifics of the offending candy brands, saying by email that this was "investigative and privileged."

But David Lazier of Sacramento County's "Weights and Measures" division said the complaint was regarding chocolate-covered cherries under the "Queen Anne" label. The legal action started after a random retail purchase and inspection by his department.

"We go out and randomly purchase holiday candy or goods," said Lazier. "These were net-weight 13.2 ounce packages. They were Queen Anne milk chocolate cordials. The box was less than 50 percent full. They were found at Walmart, and the box was about 11 inches wide and 2" deep."

The boxes — with a lot of air space in them — were "slack filled," said Lazier.

"They had a lot of space in the boxes. You opened it up and there wasn't as much candy as you expected. The boxes were much larger than necessary to protect the candy."

"Slack filling" is illegal because it is deceptive, even if — as in this case — the candy box had its "stated weight" of chocolates inside, said Lazier.

Raven, of the Yolo D.A.'s office, said that Signature Brands cooperated with investigators and took "speedy action" to settle the case. The company admitted no wrongdoing.

A spokesperson for Signature Brands told the News-Ledger that her company actually didn't have anything to do with the chocolates in question.

"The company was never related to the Queen Anne product," said Connie Larsen, CFO for Signature Brands.

Signature Brands acquired a company involved in the Queen Anne cordials only after the allegations were made, she said. Signature

Pellet plant for the port

West Sacramento's planning commission approved a permit Thursday for a wood pellet manufacturing plant at the Port of West Sacramento.

Enligna US plans to produce 170,000 tons of wood pellets annually as a substitute for coal power at plants in Asia, Canada, Europe and the U.S. The use of wood pellets instead of coal will reduce greenhouse gas emissions, said a press release from the port.

The plant will employ 35 people and "generate revenue of up to $1.1 million annually for the Port."

Enligna will also operate a cogeneration plant at the port, generating electricity to power its own manufacturing operations, and selling excess power "back to the grid" or to other port tenants, said port officials.

"Our project will use waste wood from orchards in the region and help provide an environmentally sound alternative to burning of wood debris in nearby national forests," said Lutz Glandorf, president of Enligna U.S., Inc., in the press release. "We are excited at the potential of this project as a model to provide green jobs in the region and offer a constructive path to cleaner energy production."

The plant will replace a fertilizer-importing operation due to leave the port in March. It will store wood chips in a grain elevator and on a 12-acre site. It is scheduled to begin pellet production by the end of 2010, and energy generation soon after.

Scrooge & his guests

The West Sacramento Community Theater Company has brought its version of "A Christmas Carol" to the local stage.

At left are Frank Hickox as the ghost of "Marley," and Makail Buse as "Scrooge."

The production runs through Dec. 20, on Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m. and Sundays at 2 p.m. at Yolo High School, 920 Westacre Road.

Tickets are $8 at the door ($6 for seniors and students.)

Bring a donated canned food item for $2 off.

What can we learn from Tiger's scandal?

Note: I wrote this column last weekend, but as we go to press, it would appear that Tiger has been more active with his putter than first believed. But rather than upgrade this week's column to reflect the fact that Tiger's extra marital scorecard is starting to get out of hand, I think I will just leave it alone, especially since the moral of my little story remains pretty much the same.

As those of you who read this column regularly know, I love to golf, and I try to do so every chance I get. So as you might imagine, I have been following the Tiger Woods scandal pretty closely. And for those of you who have been vacationing on Mars lately, here are the main players in this still-to-be sorted out golf soap opera:

Tiger Woods, the greatest golfer on earth, who has made more money chasing little white balls around than you or I will ever see in one hundred lifetimes.

Elin Nordegren, Tiger's beautiful Swedish wife, who was once a model and is better looking than you or I will ever be in one hundred lifetimes.

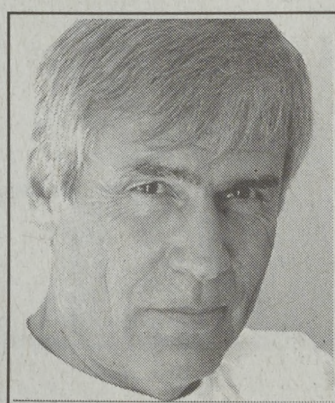

Rachel Uchitel, alleged mistress #1, who is a nightclub promoter and well-known party girl who the National Enquirer says recently joined Tiger in Australia (on his nickel) to do more than just cheer him on while he was playing in a big golf tournament there.

Jaimee Grubbs, alleged mistress #2, a Los Angeles-based cocktail waitress and reality star who claims to have had more than 20 sexual encounters with Tiger over a 31-month period. Oh, and she is also apparently in possession of some very incriminating voicemails and over 300 text messages from the world's #1 ranked golfer.

Kalika Moquin, alleged mistress #3, a Las Vegas marketing manager who has reportedly been having a fun-filled little fling with Tiger for months.

So, now that we have all the players squared away (to the best of my ability, anyway), and also noting the fact that this may be only the tip of the Tiger mistress-iceberg, I want to share with you a little phone conversation I had recently with one of my golfing buddies (I'll call him Ed), who also happens to be a really big Tiger Woods fan:

"Daryl, have you heard the latest about poor Tiger?"

"Poor Tiger?" I asked. "The guy is worth more than a billion bucks, although something tells me he's going to be worth a whole lot less than that real soon."

"So you think his wife is going to divorce him and cry all the way to the bank?"

"I wouldn't be surprised," I said. "And don't forget about all the sweet young ladies he's been fooling around with and their lawyers who are going to want a nice big piece of the Tiger pie, too."

"I just can't believe he got himself into this much trouble," lamented Ed. "I mean, he has always had such a spotless reputation. By the way, how do you think it really all went down? Do you think his wife really went postal on him when she found out?"

"Well," I said, "according to all the rumors I've read, I think it happened something like this. Tiger was in his bedroom practicing his putting when his incredibly beautiful wife suddenly stormed into the room and demanded to know if it was true that he was fooling around with other women. 'Where in the world did you hear that?', Tiger answered meekly, looking as guilty as he should every time he walks away with one of those million dollar checks they're always giving him for just going golfing. 'It's all over the Internet', screamed Tiger's wife. 'It's even on Larry King Live! So is it true or not? And don't lie to me if you want to see the sun come up tomorrow!' 'Well, honey,' tried to explain Tiger, 'as you know, I am by far the greatest golfer in the world, and well, women everywhere are always trying to get me in trouble, and I'm only human you know, and well, maybe on a couple of occasions, during a real weak moment, I might have....' Then, while Tiger was still in mid-sentence, his wife suddenly grabbed the putter out of his hand and started swinging it at him. Tiger ducked and yelled, 'Hey, Babe, that's my favorite putter - I'm nobody without that', so his wife threw down the putter and began beating on his famous head with her fists instead. And when Tiger finally took off running, his wife grabbed a three-iron out of his golf bag and chased him for a good fifteen minutes."

"Fifteen minutes?"

"There are lots of places to run to when you live in a mansion," I reminded my friend. "I wonder why she went after him with a three-iron instead of his driver?"

"Jesper Parnevik (the fellow golfer who introduced Tiger to Elin and now wishes he hadn't) says he wants to know the very same thing. Anyway, somewhere along the line, Tiger grabbed his car keys, ran out the front door barefoot and in his underwear, jumped into his fancy Cadillac SUV, and tried to drive away, but his wife kept smashing the windows with Tiger's own golf club and he finally lost control and slammed into a fire hydrant and then a tree."

"Wow," said Ed, "so that's how you think it really went down, huh?"

"That's my best guess," I said, "but since Tiger and his wife aren't talking, I guess we'll never really know, will we? But I do think there's a pretty good moral to be learned from all this, though."

"And what's that?" asked Ed with interest. "Never leave your golf clubs laying around where your wife can easily get her hands on them!"

Free local H1N1 flu clinic Monday for 'priority' groups

The Yolo County Health Department reports that there still isn't enough H1N1 flu vaccine available to the general public. But, in partnership with the cities of Davis, West Sacramento, Woodland and Winters, the department has scheduled a series of free vaccination clinics for "priority" groups.

The clinics will be offered for pregnant women, parents of children who are under the age of six months, and people between the ages of six months and 24 years.

This clinic schedule may change due to vaccine availability or other factors.

Before attending a vaccine clinic, check the Yolo County Health Department's Web site: www.yolohealth.org (select: Novel H1N1 Influenza) for updates.

SPORTS INSIDER

By Rich Novoa

Get ready to go bowling, because the powers to be have spoken in selecting the NCAA College Football Championship game. The Bowl Championship Series (BCS) officials have put No. 1 Alabama (13-0) against No. 2 Texas (13-0) in the National Title game on January 7th in Pasadena.

The top-ranked Crimson Tide, who will enter the championship game as 4 1/2 point favorites, will be lead by Heisman candidate Mark Ingram, against Texas and their star quarterback Colt McCoy, who is also being considered for the Heisman award.

No. 3 TCU, No. 4 Cincinnati and No. 6 Boise State also finished their season undefeated but were passed up for the BCS championship game. Instead Cincinnati will tackle Tim Tebow and the Florida Gators, who were mugged by Alabama, in the Sugar Bowl while TCU and Boise State face each other at the Fiesta Bowl in Arizona.

The Oregon Ducks (10-2) return to the Rose Bowl for the first time since 1994 to play Ohio State (10-2) while the mighty USC Trojans, who lost again, fell out of the top 25 rankings and will be playing in the Emerald Bowl on December 26th at AT&T Park in San Francisco.

Who would you vote for in the Heisman Trophy competition? This year's award should be very interesting because there is no odds-on favorite to win like last year, when Tim Tebow was a unanimous selection. Tebow was invited back for his third time but Colt McCoy, Mark Ingram, Toby Gerhart and Ndamukong Suh should be ahead of the Florida quarterback in the voting process.

McCoy passed for 3,512 yards with 27 touchdowns and 12 interceptions and Ingram has rushed for 1,542 yards and scored 15 touchdowns for No. 1 Alabama. Nebraska's Suh had 4 1/2 sacks in an attention-grabbing performance against Texas in the Big 12 title game and is the first defensive player to be a finalist since 1997, when Michigan cornerback Charles Woodson became the first full-time defensive player to win the Heisman. Stanford's Gerhart, meanwhile, has run for more yards (1,736) and scored more touchdowns (26) than any player in the nation.

Don't forget to watch the Heisman Trophy award on Saturday live (5 p.m.-ESPN) from New York. Usually only three players are invited to attend the event but this year all five finalists have been invited to Manhattan for the first time since 2004, when USC quarterback Matt Leinart won the award.

I'll be pulling Stanford's Tony Gerhart to win the Trophy on Saturday night in New York which would make him the second player in Stanford history to win the award in the 75-year history of the Heisman. Ex-Stanford grad and Raiders Quarterback Jim Plunkett won the Heisman in 1970.

World Cup 2010

If you're a soccer fanatic like me don't forget to write down June 12th on your calendar because that's when the USA plays England in their opening round of the 2010 World Cup in South Africa.

The United States was very lucky during the World Cup draft last Friday ending up in Group C with England, Slovenia and Algeria while the Mexican team ended up in tough bracket which is referred to as the group of death because only the top two teams in each bracket advances to the second round of single elimination. Mexico is joined in Group A by France, Uruguay, and the host team South Africa.

Kings Korner

The Kings (9-10) continue to win as they pack up their bags for short road trip which begins on Tuesday in New Orleans followed by a back-to-back trip to the Alamo to face the Spurs on Wednesday night (5:30-7:00 p.m. CSNCA).

Kings are playing a fun brand of basketball exhibiting their new Run and Gun style and using their young bench strength to out hustle their opponents but are 1-7 on the road. Tyreke Evans continues to shine and was voted the rookie of the month by the NBA. Evans has been averaging 23 points and 5.8 rebounds and 5 assists in his last 13 games.

NFL week 14

OK, one thing I've got to admit is that 49ers (5-7) are not as good as I thought and the Raiders (4-8) are not as bad I perceived, but one thing for sure is neither of these teams will not be in the playoffs this year.

The Niners choked in their 20-17 last second loss in Seattle wasting Alex Smith's best passing day of his career. Smith had 45 passing attempts completing 27 for 310 yards and two touchdowns, with no interceptions but it was Vernon Davis's drop of a perfect pass in the end zone on the final drive that wasted Smith's perfect day at quarterback.

To make things worst Frank Gore's fumble early in the period killed a game winning drive and until Gore lost the football trying to get another yard at the Seattle 22, it looked as if the 49ers were going to drive 98 yards for a go-ahead touchdown so now it's wait until next season for the 49ers who will host the division leading Cardinals on Monday (5:30 p.m.) at Candlestick Park.

The upset of the week was Da Raiders shocking 27-24 win over the defending Super Bowl champions. The Steelers let the Raiders hang around until late in the fourth quarter while Pittsburgh native, Bruce Gradkowski, worked his magic to the delight of his father and family who came out to Heinz Field to support the Raiders.

The Raiders scored three late touchdowns to mount their comeback win the Steelers but it was Gradkowski, who led the most improbable comeback in Raiders history, directing the Silver and Black attack on an amazing 88-yard drive in 107 seconds. Gradkowski completed 20 of his 33 attempts for 308 yards and three touchdowns. It was great to see Gradkowski succeed in the wake of the disappointing season JaMarcus Russell has put the Raider Nation through. The Raiders will be at home next Sunday (1 p.m.-blackout) to host the Washington Redskins.

Aztec's Picks

My dog Aztec was very cold last week losing four picks while winning only one and now a winter freeze threatens to drop his season record below the current 33-29-1 mark. Aztec is in trouble with snow forecasted this week in West Sacramento and with no college games scheduled this week so Aztec will be forced to pick five NFL games.

In the AFC, the Colts (-7) will host Denver and continue their unbeaten streak while the Ravens (-12) get well against the Lions. Houston (-6) will ruffle the Seahawks feathers, the Chargers (+3 1/2) get points to beat Romo in Dallas and the Titans (-13) will embarrass the Rams in Tennessee.

Between the Ropes

The 40-year-old former

Soviet Union WBC heavyweight champion Oleg Maskaev (36-6, 27 KO's) will face 23-year old New Yorker, Nagy Aguilera (14-2, 9 KO's) on Friday, Dec. 11th at the Sacramento Memorial Auditorium. Maskaev, who lives in West Sacramento, is looking to get at shot at the heavyweight champion Vitali Klitschko.

Local promoter Nasser Niavaroni has added highly decorated amateur standout, Richard Hargraves (welterweight), who will make his pro debut against John Dunham. Hargraves amateur record is 50-7. Hargraves was a 3-time local and state Golden Gloves champion and P.A.L (165 lbs) 2006 Bronze medalist and a member of the 2009 Team USA and the USA national champion.

Niavaroni is working with promoter Dennis Rappaport on an undercard featuring local fights Hector Martinez, Stan Martyniuk and Max Becerra. Tickets are priced from $30 to $150 and available at the box office (916) 808-5181.

CANDY: Yolo may look for more consumer law actions

Brands has no current ties to the Queen Anne candy makers.

"We did what we needed to do to work with the D.A.'s office and put this behind us," said Larsen.

The Sacramento/Yolo lawsuit's proceeds will go into local consumer protection efforts, said Raven, of the Yolo D.A.'s office.

"The money is put in a trust fund for use by our Consumer Fraud and Environmental Protection Division," he told the News-Ledger by email.

The lawsuit will preempt other similar actions elsewhere in the state.

Over a decade ago, Yolo obtained a cash settlement after a similar complaint: a popular musical group called Milli Vanilli had been caught lip-synching at concerts, and its recorded music had actually been recorded by others. Yolo's then-D.A. successfully argued that buyers of Milli Vanilli's music had been defrauded, because the duo didn't do their own music.

Does the Yolo D.A.'s office anticipate more of this kind of action?

"Yes," said Raven.

CORRECTION: article misstated jury's decisions on two 16-year olds

A November 18 News-Ledger article about two 16-year olds convicted of criminal charges contained errors.

The charges stemmed from the March 12 beating and robbery of a man in a West Sacramento parking lot. The youths were tried as adults, and identified by the Yolo County D.A.'s office as Charles Rios and Benito Morales.

According to the District Attorney's office, the youths were convicted of being members of a criminal gang and of theft. Rios was also convicted of receiving stolen property.

The jury "hung" with an 11-1 vote in favor of conviction on charges of "assault by means of force likely to cause great bodily injury." The pair may be retried on that charge.

The article's headline, "Two 16-year olds convicted of beating victim during robbery," was therefore inaccurate.

The article also mistakenly said that Morales was convicted of receiving stolen property. Only Rios was convicted on that charge, said the D.A.'s office.

The News-Ledger regrets the errors.

The annual 'Santa Run' started again on Monday night.

The West Sacramento Fire Department, in conjunction with the West Sacramento Firefighter's Association, is bringing back the annual "Santa Run" through West Sacramento. With the help of many off-duty firefighter "elves," Santa is riding through various neighborhoods on an elaborately decorated fire truck "sleigh" and handing out candy canes purchased and donated by the West Sacramento Firefighter's Association. A pickup truck following his "sleigh" carries helpers collecting any canned food donations for the needy.

This year the Santa Run is scheduled for six nights beginning at 6:00 PM. each night.

Dates may be postponed in the event of rain. Remaining dates for the "Santa Run" are:

'Extrication' drill

Forty-five West Sacramento firefighters trained in "vehicle extrication" techniques over three days recently, in conjunction with the Dollar Tow towyard. The training is expected to come in handy when firefighters have to get people out of damaged vehicles and twisted metal.

"A delicate touch is needed to minimize disturbance to the victim during extrication," said a department press release. "This operation is typically accomplished by utilizing chocks, bracing to stabilize, and hydraulic tools, which include the 'Jaws of Life'." Firefighters trained using new "rescue mannequins."

First children's book by local

Annie J. King of West Sacramento has published her first children's book. King, a professor at the UC Davis Department of Animal Science, is active with the Bryte and Broderick Community Action Group in the city.

Her book, "Granny Annie Lives at the Airport," is a "great discussion-starter that will have the whole family remembering the hilarious things they imagined when they were young," according to Tate Publishing.

The book can be ordered at bookstores or through www.tatepublishing.com/bookstore, amazon.com, and other sites.

EARLY ACTION EXPECTED IN ROAD BUILDING IN THIS DISTRICT

All the members of the Board of Supervisors of Yolo County, except Supervisor Gladney, spent the greater part of yesterday viewing the roadways of this district of the county.

The principal object of their visit was to view the land at Sixth and Ann Streets that is to be taken over from the Parkinson block and Henley in order that a wide turn may be made at Sixth and Ann Streets.

After a short session with the property owners the deals were completed and the supervisors went on their way to view other portions of the roadway north and south of the town.

North of Washington the road is completed as far as the Sacramento by-pass, but from that point north to Elkhorn the levee road is in a terrible condition.

For the improvement of this stretch a direct tax has been levied on the property owners that should finish the road.

A dredger has been busy for several weeks raising and widening the levee road north of the by-pass. At the present time the dredger is at work at a point in front of the Bandy ranch and it is estimated it will have completed its work in about two weeks.

In the meantime the ranchers are finding a detour to the west necessary and very inconvenient.

Supervisor Leinberger estimates he will be able to finish this road before the end of summer.

South of Washington the road through West Sacramento is in very good condition except for the one bad spot about two hundred yards south of the M Street bridge. A contract has been let for the improvement of this section, but owing to wet weather the contractors have not been able to get in the field.

A peculiar problem confronts the supervisors in the concrete roadway south of the soil laboratory.

A few weeks ago a 20-ton road roller was put to work on this concrete in an effort to break it up. The road roller did not even dent the surface and yet the road is almost impassable because of the great chuckholes that have been worked in the concrete. Temporarily these chuck holes have been filled with macadam, leaving the road passable for automobiles and teams.

At the church in West Sacramento the road turns east to the river levee, joining the latter at Glide's landing and running southward on top of the levee as far as Clarksburg. Part of the $1,000,000 bond issue voted two years ago in Yolo County still remains to be spent on this roadway and this will be done during the coming summer.

Last Thursday the supervisors viewed this road also with County Surveyor Proctor and acknowledged that immediate relief should be afforded, especially for that portion between the church and Glide's landing.

ARRESTED FOR PASSING FORGED CHECK ON BEALE COMPANY

G. Apau, a Hawaiian, was before Judge Barry's court last Tuesday forenoon on a charge of forgery and embezzlement for having passed a check on George Beale in the amount of $85.00.

It seems that Apau not only passed the check but even forged a name for it and then endorsed it when it was presented for cashing.

Apau made claim to George Beale that he wanted to pay his boarding house bill in the amount of $35.00, and in addition took $50.00 in cash from the grocery man. He was arrested by Constable Buckingham.

Under the charge he was held over by Judge Barry to answer before the Superior Court under $1000 bonds.

HANDSOME GIFT MADE TO WASHINGTON CATHOLIC CHURCH

During the past week there was installed in the Catholic Church of Our Lady of the Blessed Sacrament a handsome new organ, the gift of Mrs. George K. Rider of Sacramento.

This gift came very appropriately and just in time when most needed.
The old organ had been used for several years and was in constant need of repairs. Mrs. Rider, noticing this, made the offer to Rev. Father Marcucci, who immediately signified his willingness to accept the instrument in behalf of the church and to have it duly installed.

For the first time next Sunday the organ will be heard at Mass, and Mrs. Rider wants to be present and has promised to be present to hear its peals with the church filled with people.

The organ is of the latest make and beautifully decorated with hand engravings. Father Marcucci and the members of his flock are extending their heartfelt thanks to Mrs. Rider for this handsome donation.

HAMMAN MUST BE SICK; FOUND NO GRAFT IN YOLO COUNTY

Woodland, Jan. 12.—No evidence of crookedness or graft and no significant irregularities will appear in the official typewritten report of W.
D. Hamman, who has completed his expert probe into the business affairs of Yolo County. Hamman discussed his findings with the Yolo County Grand Jury today. He would not disclose the details of what his final report will be other than to remark that "it will not be unusual."

Hamman stated that he had found some "slight discrepancies" in the various offices, but nothing that is glaring. In some instances officials are not adhering strictly to the law, but the variance has been probably through misunderstanding of the law and has not been serious, according to the expert.

Hamman specifically stated, "there has been no crookedness and no graft."

WARINGS START SUIT FOR RECOVERY OF RAILWAY LANDS

Woodland, Jan. 9.—Ray Waring, former clerk of the Supreme Court, and Robert Waring, former inheritance tax attorney, have employed
A. G. Bailey of the firm of Grant &
Bailey, to assist them in recovering land condemned eight years ago by the West Side Railroad Company which planned an extensive system in Eastern Yolo County, covering the districts covered by Washington, Lisbon, Clarksburg and down the line. The railroad company failed to consummate the purposes for which the land was condemned and the Warings are now in the Superior Court of this county in a novel piece of litigation in the hope, to have their lands returned to them.

STRICTLY FIRST CLASS

At a price anybody can afford

Are things a bit tight this year, financially?

Give yourself and your family and seek out some of the free or cheap entertainment available to you around town. Our own "Local Scene" section on the back page is a pretty good place to start looking for that "bargain good time."

One of those ideas is coming up this Sunday: the West Sacramento Community Orchestra is presenting a free holiday concert at 3 p.m. at the civic center Galleria. If you haven't heard the orchestra — or been inside city hall — what are you waiting for?

Or step out to Jefferson Boulevard in Southport at 2 p.m. on Saturday to watch the horses go by. The West Sacramento Trail Riders Association will journey from Gregory Avenue to the fire station at Lake Washington Boulevard to drop off toys for the Shriner toy drive. Find a nice spot to watch them arrive in the parking lots of the Southport Town Center area.

Then there's the Sacramento Zoo, not too far across the river. The zoo (thanks to Target) is offering a free admission day on Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Animals will get special holiday treats, and zoo staff will be around to answer questions. The Marines will also be at the zoo accepting toy donations for the "Toys for Tots" program. Bring along a new, unwrapped toy, and you'll get a free child's admission ticket to use on another visit. The zoo is at 3930 West Land Park Drive, Sacramento.

If your concerns are more basic — making ends meet — then one source of help is the regular food giveaway by the Food Bank of Yolo County. Upcoming food distribution events are planned in West Sacramento on Tuesday morning and again on Dec. 22. Bring a bag, and pick up some noodles, instant milk, and canned foods. Check out the dates and locations listed in our "Local Scene" section.

Sometimes, there is such a thing as a free lunch. Or a free good time.

Letters to the Editor

No mercy

In last week's Sacramento Bee was a photograph and article about Arnold Barraza and Cirena Martinez of Woodland, who were shown sitting in a Yolo County Superior Court after having crashed their car and killing one child and injuring another. How sad a story this is. Arnold Barraza's baby boy is in critical condition as this letter is being written. It is the worst fear of every parent, to lose a child. These parents are now faced with the possibility of being charged criminally by our Yolo County DA, Jeff Reisig, pending the outcome of drug and alcohol tests. DA Reisig has shown a penchant for showing no mercy, and you can see evidence of that in the picture, Cirena Martinez is wearing handcuffs. I wonder if DA Reisig shackles all presumed-innocent criminal defendants or just mothers who have just lost a child. Reisig should be ashamed.

The question we have to ask ourselves is does this show-no-mercy policy really benefit our society. Is trying juveniles as adults and putting them into adult prisons for long periods of time, as DA Reisig likes to do, really a good idea? Does it make our communities safer? When prisoners get out after long extended sentences are they happier, better citizens, better to cope with the outside world? Or worse citizens, more angry? I know it costs a lot more to keep people in prison than not. Who really benefits from these severe punishments?

Traditionally, Republican politicians use the tough-on-crime label to get fearful voters to vote Republican, and it has worked, but they have never been able to make a case that it helps to make us safer. Arnold Barraza and Cerina Martinez need intelligent understanding and compassion, not some mindless penalty that only makes a horrible situation more horrible.

Joining forces

Thank you, Dani Langford, for expressing so well, the essence of what it was like to try and keep up with Mary Lasell. It was simple: you ran full speed ahead while she just cruised along, absorbing more and more tasks on her way. To where? To help improve, in any way she could, her neighborhood and, by extension, her community as a whole. Whether, as have you, it was striving for sanity in the City Council, Yolo County, S.A.C.O.G. W.U.S.D. or our infamous School Board by attending enumerable meetings (no matter how hard they tried to throw everyone off by suddenly changing times and, occasionally, places) and voicing her substantiated opinions (despite a sometimes rude reception by certain board members), or researching law and code for "ammunition", if you will, in her constant quest to bring her (and our) community up to better standards, she was indefatigable.

As to Ray Jones and Stu Greenfield, I met Ray through Bill Kristoff and J. Frank Frain Jr., back when he was still in charge of the Broderick Post Office, around the time we were achieving city-hood. I found him to be a good man whom I believed had the best interest's of this entire community at heart. Stu Greenfield, whom, I believe, I only met once, which during the last "Meet Up" I attended as a board member of the then Bryte and Broderick community Action Group (now Network) at the Star Buck's over by the Highway Patrol Academy. We spent a quite animated, intense, interesting and, to me, profitable ten or so minutes discussing not only this school district, but a much broader array of educational obstacles (and some solutions to them) facing communities today.

I often asked Mary, "when are you going to get Dani Langford to join us?" She always replied that you already had a pretty full plate and didn't have the extra time. Considering the efforts put forth by our dear friend, I'm hoping you'll reconsider and find a way to clear out a bit of your schedule and consider joining the Bryte and Broderick Community Action Network. Quite frankly, I feel the community still needs that same sort of determination, to dig through the layers necessary to get at the real underpinnings of a situation or problem we, as a community may face, that she brought to the table working with us.

And, quite frankly, I'm still of the mind that you are the one, of all those I've had a chance to consider, most able to do so. If you would like to discuss this further, the Editor has my contact information, to which I've freely given permission to relay to you. J. BESHARIAN

COUCH THEATER DVD PREVIEW

PICKS OF THE WEEK

"District 9" — There were only two great science-fiction films released this year: Duncan Jones' "Moon," and South African director Neill Blomkamp's "District 9." Both were low-budget, independent films that were critically acclaimed but didn't get the kind of promotion they deserved, and so were only in theaters for a blip of a moment.

"District 9" begins nearly 30 years ago, when a massive alien spacecraft appears in the skies above Johannesburg. After a few months of zero-activity or communication with the craft, a team is sent to investigate. They find a million alien beings onboard, all of them sick and malnourished. Flash-forward to the present day. The aliens (called "prawns" by humans) have been placed in a restricted area known as District 9. Their numbers have swelled to 2.5 million, and a decision has been made to move them to a new internment camp. The camp is run by a private corporation that is secretly performing medical experiments on the aliens in order to discover the secrets of their weaponry, which is somehow genetically connected to the prawns.

Enter a fellow named Wikus (Sharlto Copley). Wikus has just been promoted and is given the assignment of moving the prawns to the new internment camp. A mishap during one of the raids puts Wikus in contact with a strange alien substance that begins to rewrite his genetic code — slowly transforming him into one of the prawns. What happens next is a com-elling story about apartheid, xenophobia and the danger of putting for-profit corporations in charge of government operations where human-rights violations are easily concealed.

"Family Guy Presents: Something Something Something Dark Side" — The eagerly awaited sequel to "Blue Harvest" is finally here, as "The Empire Strikes Back" receives the "Family Guy" treatment. Stewie as Darth Vader? I am so there.

"It Might Get Loud" — One of the year's best documentaries brings together three generations of rock guys.

Sharlto Copley

High Society: The Life of Grace Kelly by Donald Spoto (Harmony Books, $25.99) Reviewed by Larry Cox

When biographer Donald Spoto first interviewed Grace Kelly in Paris in 1975, what most impressed him was her total lack of affectation: She put on no airs, was funny and ironic, and despite being a princess, didn't hesitate to share several delightfully risqué tales of her work in Hollywood. Before he left that day, she had agreed to write a foreword to his new book, "The Art of Alfred Hitchcock."

A year later, Spoto visited Princess Grace at the palace in Monaco to present her with a copy of the Hitchcock book. During their final meeting shortly before her death, Kelly told Spoto he should be the one to write a book about her life. She only had one condition: It was not to be published until 25 years after her death.

Spoto kept that promise, and has written a candid, poignant and sometimes hilarious account of the colorful life of this incredible, accessible woman. The book has literary legs for two reasons: The unprecedented access Spoto had to Grace Kelly, and the trust that quickly developed between them. During intimate interviews, the princess shared personal details of almost every aspect of her life, from her childhood on the Main Line in Philadelphia to the relationships she had with some of Hollywood's greatest directors and actors, and the men she loved.

Spoto looks beyond Kelly's fairy-tale public life to reveal a complex, stubborn and independent woman who was much, much more than just another pretty face. For example, during her early years as an actress when it would have been much easier for her if she had accepted financial help from her family, she refused and made her way on her own terms.

Illustrated with 30 black-and-white photos, "High Society" is a fitting tribute for this remarkable woman, who went from movie schoolgirl to Oscar-winning movie star and, finally, a member of Monaco's royal family. As Spoto's book proves, Kelly's life was quite a journey.

A Gift of Faith and Food

My father, Howard, was in the Air Force, and my mother, Angeline, was a homemaker. They didn't have a lot of money to buy Christmas presents for my three siblings or myself. One thing they did give us was lots of love, great food and faith in God and in the future, no matter how bleak things might look in the present.

The Bible says that faith is "a gift of God." I believe that. It would take a God to create something as wonderful and as life-sustaining as faith. It takes a great faith to carry on in the midst of all the troubles we face day in and day out. The wonderful thing about faith is that the more you use it, the more it grows. Unlike earthly things that become worn and depleted when used time after time, faith becomes even stronger and more abundant the more you use it.

I often hear about people "losing faith." If you feel like that, all I can say is that lost things are often found in the most unexpected places at the most unexpected times. I've misplaced things, thinking that they were lost, only to find them when I was looking for something else. The thing I'd thought I'd lost was there all the time, waiting for me to discover it again. Faith is like that. Sometimes when you think you've reached the end of your ability to believe, something or someone comes along to shore you up so that you can continue on.

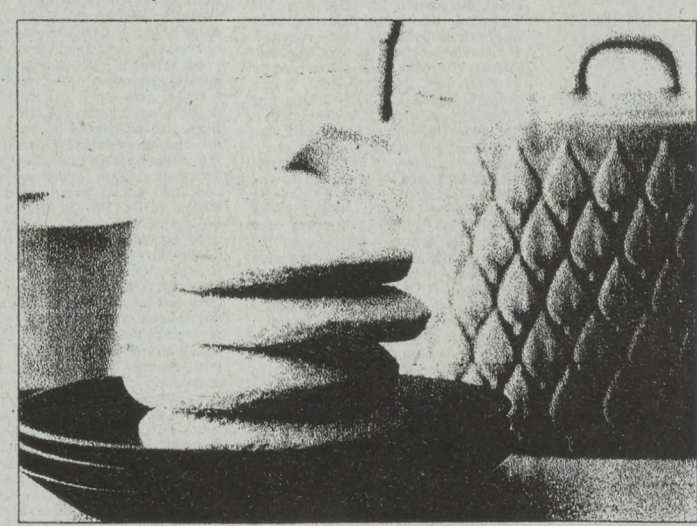

I have great faith in the future and the abilities of the American people to preserve in these difficult times. We must love and speak lovingly about our country. A thing that is not loved will not grow properly. We must have faith in our personal abilities and in our potential as a people in order to grow.

While the holidays pose their own special set of personal and financial challenges, it's also a time to appreciate and treasure the priceless things in our lives — love, faith and family.

No matter what your circumstances might be, hold on to hope, preserve and cherish your family's heritage, memories and recipes; and most importantly in these difficult times, keep the faith.

Some of my favorite Christmas memories are linked to the dishes my mother made during the holidays. Teacakes are a Southern-style cookie that were a special after-school treat or a holiday dessert during my childhood. Making and sharing these delicious cookies are almost as fun as eating them! Merry Christmas, and have a blessed holiday season!

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF MARTHA LOUISE CLAUS CASE NUMBER PB09-204

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of MARTHA LOUISE CLAUS: A Petition for Probate has been filed by LAURA HAUSHERR in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

The Petition for Probate requests that Laura Hausherr be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests decedents will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows: Jan. 27, 2010, at 9:00 a.m., in Dept. 15, Superior Court of California, County of Yolo, 1100 Main St., Ste. 300, Woodland CA 95695.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Probate Code section 9100. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a "Request for Special Notice" (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A "Request for Special Notice" form is available from the court clerk.

4:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m., Riverbank Elementary School, 1100 Carrie Street, West Sacramento.

Wednesday, December 16, 4:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m., Winters Community Center, 201 Railroad Avenue, Winters.

Parking may be limited at clinic sites so participants are encouraged to plan accordingly. All sites can be accessed via Yolobus. For a complete bus schedule, go to www.yolobus.com.

"Novel H1N1 vaccine is being distributed throughout California to healthcare providers and local health departments. As of the end of November, only enough has been distributed to vaccinate approximately 18 percent of the population of California, and the majority of vaccine shipped to Yolo County has gone to healthcare providers. As a result, we are limiting these public vaccination clinics to those at the highest risk," said Dr. Joseph Iser, Yolo County Health Department Director-Health Officer, in a press release. "I encourage those not in one of these high risk groups, and who already have a healthcare provider, to seek Novel H1N1 vaccine from their provider."

Vaccinations will only be provided to the high risk groups outlined above on a first come, first served basis. Both traditional injectable vaccine and FluMist (a nasal spray) vaccine will be available, as will preservative-free vaccine reserved for pregnant women. Informational materials about the vaccine will be provided at the clinics in English, Russian, and Spanish and interpreters will be available on site.

Those planning to attend one of the Novel H1N1 vaccination clinics should come prepared to wait. Due to a high demand for the vaccine, public clinics across the region have had long lines. Participants are encouraged to bring whatever is necessary to be comfortable while waiting. Vaccination clinic lines are mostly outdoors, so participants are encouraged to check the weather forecast prior to attending. Since the wait may be several hours, consider bringing snacks and water, portable chairs, games for children, etc.

Parents or children who may already be sick will not be able to be vaccinated until they are well again.

To expedite the vaccination process, participants are encouraged to complete, print and bring with them to the clinic the vaccination screening questionnaire which is available online: www.yolobusinesspartners.org/forms.html (select: Medical Screening Assistant)

For more information about Novel H1N1 influenza and future vaccination clinics as they become scheduled, go to www.yolohealth.org (select: Novel H1N1 Influenza) or call (530) 666-8645.
